

20ft New Standard Containers

20ft containers are some of our most frequently requested, and are usually used for shipping and general storage. We provide units of 20ft shipping container for sale, as well as for hire.

20ft containers are a standard manufacturing size, designed for multi-modal transportation. These containers are the best value for money; not only used for shipping and general storage, 20ft containers can act as the building block for modifications into different structures, such as mobile sales units and housing, amongst countless other applications.

We can make new containers, used shipping containers and cargo-worthy 20ft shipping container units available, in various colours, throughout the UK. Our customers' needs are unique, and we cater to each and every single one. Here at Cleveland Containers we have been trading for many years, and our expertise renders us able to supply our customers with the highest quality shipping containers for the best value, so leave your container hire or purchase needs in our capable hands.
